RELIEVING EROADWAY.

A rather singular document was presented, proposing a plan for the relief of Broadway, by John L. Brower. As a specimen of the style of the language in which this interesting communication is couched throughout, we make the following quotation, which forms the concluding words:—

And now I am done, onley te me say, in Fathering this project I shall be like one of the two Mothers and Solo patrons of this old and favorite theatre.

Stevens and Eddy sustaining the principal characters. Thisl programme will be sure to attract a large assemblage of the patterns of this old and favorite theatre.

Broadway Theatre.—Forrest is still drawing large houses, although this evening is the fifty-fifth of his engagement being a matter, we believe, without parallel in the history of the drama. He appears to-night in "King Lear," and will be supported in the otherleading characters by Messrs. Barry. Conway, Reynolds, Whiting, Mad. Posis and Mrs. Abbott. The entertainments will conclude with the farce of "My Young Wife and Old Umbrella." with Davidge in the leading part. It is a source of great pleasure to the visiters that the musical department of the Broadway theatre is so much improved.

She will be assisted by Mr. Hudson, Mr. Leach, Miss Julia Daly, and other artists of eminence, in the profession. the States.

Burron's Theatre.—One continuous career of success attends the efforts of Burton. His selections are so good, and his actors are all men of the first walk in the drama. The amusements selected for this evening, consist of the comedy colled "Tweifth Night." It is scarcely necessary to say that this piece will draw a full house, as every night it has been played the theatre was crowded. The cast contains the names of all the leading artists of Burton's theatre. The amusements will conclude with the farce of "Rather Excited."

The selections for this evening consist of the Oriental spectacle called "Cherry and Fair Star," with other interesting features.

Bower Craus.—Nathan's company are attracting large assemblages, every evening, to see their excellent equestrian exercises. Among the members of the company are the names of Levater Lee, Messra. Lepman, Rivers, Pike, Pastor, and others of equestrian celebrity.

Chaistv's Opera House.—To some persons it seems surprising that, notwithstanding the number of years this favorite band have been playing at Mechanics' Hall, the house is still every night crowded. But when the small price of admission is taken into view, together with the great vocal and instrumental ability of the company, and that negro airs are generally relished, the cause then can easily be accounted for.

Wood's Minstrales continue every night to increase in popularity—they are excellent negro delineators; they sing well, dance well, and as a whole, may be considered a very good company. The programme for this evening contains a great variety of melodies, and other attractive features.

CHARGES OF IMPARTICIES AND MURDER—TRIALS POSTFONED.

Aran. 13.—Mr. A. A. Phillips applied to the court for a postponement of the trial of Margaret Morrell, charged with infanticide. Courase unde the application upon affidavis of the absence of witnesses who are material for the defence. The woman is so stupid, almost bordering on idiotey, that it is impossible for him (Mr. Phillips) to understand her case, and she being a Frenchwoman, he has been obliged to interrogate her through an interpreter. Every effort had been made to procure the attendance of the witnesses, but without success, and he wished the trial postponed until Monday.

The District Attorney said that it was unpleasant at all times to resist an application of the kind in charges of this nature, but if the counsel would state what he intended to prove by those witnesses, he would, perhapa be willing to admit it as proved. It is necessary to make good use of the public time, as they were aware that there would be no other Oyer and Terminer, unless specially called, until November next. It was, therefore, desirable that the case on the callendar should be disposed of this term.

Mr. Phillips would prefer to have the witnesses on the

that the case on the callendar should be disposed of this term.

Mr. Phillips would prefer to have the witnesses on the stand, than to receive the admissions from the prosequion. One man can testify to her general character. The prepartion she made for her confinement, and her conduct towards her idiot boy who stands by her side, and which cectainly did not indicate a wicked mind or a reckless disposition.

After some further conversation, the case was set down for Monday next.

MURDER OF A WIPE—ALLEGED INSANITY.

The District Attorney then said that he was willing to occupy the time of the Court by inquiring into the state of mind of Martin Bloomer, charged with the murder of his wife. He believed there was no doubt of the insanity of the man now; but whether he was morally responsible at the time of the commission of the deed, was another question.

at the time of the commission of the deed, was another question.

Mr. A. A. Phillips said he would go on with that case if his witnesses could be procured to day. They had been notified for to-morrow, for which day the inquiry had been set down.

The District Attorney intimated that he would procure the witnesses for the defence.

Officers were then sent to the Tombs to bring up the accused, and to notify the medical witnesses. In a short time afterwards they arrived, and Dr. Covell, of the City prison, stated that he would wish to have a more minute examination of the prisoner, and some conversation with him, previous to giving testimony as to his state of mind. The inquiry was then set down for Monday, and the Court adjourned to 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

nt in specie has lately been quite limited the demand for coin for shipment having almost entirely disappeared. We publish to-day, the annual report of the Auditor of the Canal Department, of the tolls, trade, and tonnage of the New York State canals for the year of navigation 1851. It is a condensed and valuable document, showing the rise, progress, and prosperity of a system of internal improvement more extensive and more magnificent than that of any other State in the Union, or any country in the world. To those connected with the trade and navigation of the canals of this State, this report will be particularly interesting. We recommend its careful perusal to public men throughout the country, particularly to legislators in other States, the interna improvements of which are in their infancy. The Canal Auditor deserves great credit for the admirable manner in which he has placed such a vast amount of valuable and important information before the public.

The quantity of oil consumed by the railroad companies of the United States is immense, and furnishes a great market for the staple product of New Bedford and Nantucket enterprise. It is estimated that the value of oil consumed on American railroads during the year 1851was eight hundred thousand dollars. In Massachusetts alone, the consumption in 1851 amounted to seventy-seven thousand dollars

Counterfeit 20's on the Bank of North America, Seymour. Conn. are in circulation, altered from an old broker bank-Vignette, rail cars, sheaf of wheat, agricultural implements and canal in the distance—the figure 20 each side of the vignette; an eagle feeding an eaglet on the left end, and a small eagle on the right. We quote Land Warrants, 160 acre, $112 a $120 : 80 acre. $58 a $64; 40 acre. $28 a $33. The new warrants do not come into the market very freely, and the supply is just sufficient to keep up a healthy demand. Within the past four or five weeks a new stock has been operated in at the board of brokers-that of the Phoenix Mining and Manufacturing Company; several hundred shares have been sold, and an advance of fifty per cent on first sales realized. This company possesses valuable coal mines in the Cumberland coal region, and has charters from the States of Maryland and Virginia. Nothing has yet been accompilshed in getting out coal, in ecnsequence of the non-completion of the Ohio and Chesapeake Canal, and the non-extension of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. These markets are now available to the Phonix Company, and it is estimated that it will mine and market at least thirty thousand, and, perhaps, fifty thousand, tons of coals during the present year The distance from the opening of a six foot vein of the company's, at Westernport, to the line of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, is, by actual measurement, but seventeen hundred and fifty feet—less than one-third of a mile. The cost of the structure to connect the mine with the road, including two hundred and twenty feet of wooden bridge, and the inclined plane, is estimated at about $5,000, to which add right of way, houses for workmen, and the incidental buildings, $3,200, and for mining tools, &c., say $3000, making a total of $12,000, which expenditure will enable this company to commence the delivery of coal on beard the railroad cars, on a turnout, or side track, connecting with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. The railroad company furnishes the cars and motive power for transportation. There having been a good deal of enquiry in the street relative to the prospects and resources of this coal company, those interested will here find in a few words the whole story. There probably is not another coal mine of such extent and value in the country so accessible as this—one having greater facilities for marketing its products with such a trifling expenditure of capital. The lands of this company in the States of Virginia and Maryland, smount to about twenty-two thousand acres, free from any incumbrance; they contain coal, and iron ores of the best qualities, in inexhaustible quantities; besides which, a large portion of the surface is well adapted for agricultural purposes, and much of it is already under cultivation. It is a valuable property, and will soon be without doubt, highly productive.

The annexed statement exhibite the quantity and value of certain articles exported from this pert during the week ending the 10th inst., distinguishing the destination and extent of shipments to each place.

ments was less than usual, and the aggregate value about the same. But for the large shipments of cotton, there would have been a great falling off in the total for the week. More than one-half of the aggregate value of exports was in the single article, cotton; the next greatest item, breadstuffs. The value of foreign dry goods imported into this district last week, exceeded that of the total exportation for the corresponding period.

The last issue of the Lenden Mining Journal, gives the annexed table of gold mining companies in operation, the stock of which is daily operated in at the London Stock Exchange:-

Gold Mining Companies, Marcil 26, 1852

Agua Fria. Paid. Closing Prices.

Agua Fria. all ½ to 1½ pm.

Australian Freehold. all ½ to ½ pm.

Ave Maria. all ¼ dis. to par par prices.

Brazilian Imperial (issued at £5 premium). 24½ 1½ to ½ dis.

It appears by this that the capital of nearly all these companies has been paid in, and that the stock of most of them commands a premium at the stock exchange. The stock of all the companies in this list engaged in mining in California, is above par. It is the intention of the leading English companies to ship ore from the mines to London, to be reduced by machinery in Great Britain, instead of sending out and putting up machinery in the mines. The London Mining Journal of March 20, speaking of the Nouveau Monde Company, says:—The main object of the Nouveau Monde Company is known to be the purchase of gold ores or gold quarts in the Mariposa district, or at any other point in California, and the reduction of them by means of powerful machinery—a business which is deemed to be one likely to yield very handsome profits. No money or shares whatever have been paid or delivered to Colonel Fremont for his lesses to this company, but about £5,000 has been advanced to persons who have sold a mine and two leases of mining grounds who have sold a mine and two leases of mining grounds on his property, and not one farthing more will be paid until Mr. Clement, the confidential sgeat of the company, (who with an efficient staff must ere this have reached San Francisco,) is satisfied that there are gold veins upon Colonel Fremont's property, and that he is put into proper and quiet possession of them.

The Colonial Gold Mining Company have a capital of £30,000. The operations of this company will be of a very comprehensive character; they are empowered by the charter to purchase, take, and hold mines. or mineral to purchase auriferous and argentiferous mineral and concentrated gold and silver stuffs in Australia, and import them into England; to purchase, take and hold lands, erect works, buildings, and machinery, for the re-duction of the same in any part of Great Britain. One important division of the objects of the company is the establishment of works in London for the reception and reduction of auriferous mineral, which will be supplied partly by that raised from the company's own property. partiy by those purchased from others, and from con ments at a per centage.
